be pretty thoroughly sanctified by this time.

—The old-time custom of directing invitations to "Mr. and Mrs. —" is being modified now by the leaders in fashion, who claim that it is more proper to direct the invitation to the gentleman, it being understood that he will, of course, not appear unless accompanied by his wife or some lady. This new mode of directing invitations saves ink and trouble. Under the old way of doing things many an old bachelor has been shocked by seeing his name linked on an envelope with "and wife," and fainting spells and fits have followed. The latest is the best, and will be gladly welcomed by society folk here as in other centers of fashion.

—About noon to-day Constable Pratt's attention was called to two rough fellows who were fighting near the East side engine house. He started in as a peace-maker, but an unexpected thump from one of the pugilists, soured the milk of human kindness, and he turned from a peace-maker to a piece-maker, and proposed to break the roughs all up. A lively round followed, but Pratt managed to start the pair for jail. On getting near Lawrence & Atwood's, one of the fellows grabbed hold of the constable so as to let the other one thump him, but Special Policeman Charles Lee happened along and took a hand in the fun. After a struggle one of the roughs was held down, his legs and arms tied with ropes, and he was then thrown into a sleigh and transferred thus to jail, while his comrade followed on foot. On being lodged in jail one of the fighters tried to knock the turnkey down, and would have succeeded had his time not been cut short by being knocked down himself. The pair were then put in the dark cell for meditation. Pratt's hand was bitten and his thumb sprained in the contest, and Lee got an ugly kick, but the roughs suffered the worst.

—We dropped into Dr. Strassman's office, at the Myers house, this morning, just to see what was going on there, and found him busy caring for a bad case of catarrh, in which he is said to have wonderful skill. The office has a fine showing of all sorts of optical instruments, glasses and glass eyes, medicines, surgical instruments, in fact a bewildering of helps, which in the skillful hands of the doctor, are made to perform wonderful results, for those who have defects or diseases of eye or ear. He has glasses, which seem wonderfully brilliant and clear, and by the use of one of Liebreich's ophthalmoscopes, he examines the eye, and determines exactly the kind of glass needed by each eye, and scientifically determines just what and how much the matter is. Being thoroughly educated, and having had years of experience, he treats diseases of the eye as well, and also of the ear, and handles the instruments of testing and treating so skillfully as to inspire the confidence of every patient from the very start. The success which he met with in Beloit, and the recommendations from persons in high standing in other places, show that he must be a good deal of a genius in his line. A number of well-known residents here have interviewed him, had glasses fitted, and received treatment, and seem highly pleased, and the words of praise spoken by them are causing others to call upon him, so that the public is fast learning who and what he is, and as a consequence the number of patrons and patients is rapidly increasing.

—Patrick Hayes, of Milton, don't like law as well as he did. He brought suit against a fellow, got beat, and then just because he broke one of the witnesses a liar, Justice Crooks fined him $2 and costs, amounting in all to over $8. It must be a good deal of a man to make it worth $8 to call him a liar.

—Rev. Father McGinnity starts, next week, for Colorado, and will be absent for about a month. He has had lively work, and many obstacles to overcome here, and now that success is crowning his labors, it is mete that he should take a little rest and recreation, and then start afresh for greater conquests.

—James Shields, of the town of Rock, died yesterday, and the funeral services will be held to-morrow. He was one of the oldest residents of the county, was generally known and respected. His advanced age and enfeebled health caused his death to come not as a surprise, but yet it comes with sadness to many friends.

—The Concordia Society are making extensive arrangements for their big masquerade on the 8th of February. A large number of costumes have been received, and the masqueraders who wish to choose from them, can find them at Peter Gliem's shop, where they will be until the first of next month, before which time those desiring to make selections, should be sure and call.

—The Chicago Times says that if that big comet does slap the sun in the face, there won't be a stone left of the whole planetary system big enough for a boy to throw at a hummingbird. Well, what of it? The supposed boy won't want a stone, for there won't be any bird for him to throw at, and in fact there won't be any boy. There can't be any sympathy worked up that way.

—Now is a good time to take the school census. The enumerator could stand on Milwaukee street and tally them as they tumble on and off the bob-sleds and get a fuller count in shorter time, than by going from house to house, and waiting for forgetful parents to hunt up the record and refresh their memories from the family Bible. The parents might skip one, but the bob-sleds don't.

—Rev. Dr. Carlhart, who gained such notoriety by the Haddock-Carlhart contest, began a series of revival meetings in Elgerton last evening, assisting the pastor of the Methodist church there. As a preparatory step to the opening of the work the Reporter publishes the synopsis of the speeches made in Carlhart's behalf by his clerical attorneys at the last trial in Freeport. The Doctor's opening theme is "Entire Sanctification." If sanctification comes from tribulations and trials the Doctor must be a fresh crop of lightning rod fellows, that settles it. Farming is easy enough now, and don't want any lightning on such terms, even if it does all the work, and furnishes its own feed, unless it could manage to make its meals off the fellows that sell it by the running foot—no, no, the old way of farming with an intelligent bull dog is the best after all.

Never, No Never. An exchange says Ulysses S. Grant will never be emperor, but will always stand high in the hearts of his countrymen, occupying the position that Spring Blossom holds, in curing Sick Headache, Biliousness, Indigestion, etc. Price, 50 cents, trial bottles 10 cents. For sale by A. J. Roberts, and Craft & Sherer.

THE WEATHER.

REPORTED BY PRENTICE & EVENSON, DRUGGISTS. The thermometer at 6 o'clock last night stood at 20 degrees above zero; at 1 o'clock a. m. to-day at 25 degrees above; at 7 o'clock a. m. at 21 degrees above, and at 1 o'clock p. m. at 29 degrees above.

How Happiness is Secured. Happiness is the absence of pain or annoyance, and wherever there is pain there is disease. A pain in the lower portion of the body indicates a disorder of some kind. If there is any odor or color or deposit in the urine it means disease and requires attention at once. We have heard many of our friends speak of the remarkable power of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure and are convinced there is nothing so certain and valuable for all disorders of the urinary system both male and female.

WELL EARNED PRAISE.

The many friends of Mrs. J. W. St. John, of this city, will be pleased to read some of the words of praise which she won during her late visit to Green Bay. In speaking of the opera of "The Doctor of Alcantara," the Green Bay Globe says: "It was certainly a pleasure to hear Mrs. St. John. She has a sweet and flexible mezzo soprano, capable however of taking and holding high C without difficulty. The words, which she introduced gave her ample opportunity to exhibit her powers, and she did so well that she was enthusiastically encored. Moreover her acting was quite up to the requirements of the role, which was carried through to the end with a piquancy, a freshness, that would have done credit to a professional."

The State Gazette says: "Mrs. St. John fulfilled all that was claimed for her and will always be a welcome singer on our stage. Her singing and acting were all that could be desired."

The Globe in speaking of the concerts given in connection with the musical convention, says further: "Mrs. St. John, of Janesville, who appeared in the 'Doctor of Alcantara,' the week previous, was prevailed upon to protract her stay through the convention. She sang on several occasions, but at no time more to her credit than in the aria 'Hear ye Israel,' from 'Elijah.' While this did not furnish an opportunity for that artistic floriture of which she is master in a rare degree, yet it showed us something not within the scope of art—a depth of feeling, a fullness of sympathy that few singers possess. Mrs. St. John has few if any superiors among the soprano singers of Wisconsin."

The Best Form. The best form in which electricity is embodied is Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, a sovereign and highly sanctioned specific for rheumatic pains, and a thoroughly reliable remedy for all affections of the throat and lungs, used internally and externally.

For sale by A. J. Roberts, and Craft & Sherer.

THE STAGE ROUTE.

The Amusements Promised Janesville Folk, Next Week.

There will be at least three evenings next week which will be crowded with enjoyment, and as each of the triplet of entertainments is of an entirely different character, the variety will prove sufficiently great not to tire those who want to attend all of them, and
